3 Fairer Funding Campaign

The Sparse SIG discussed in considerable detail the approach to the Fair Shares campaign which seeks a fair deal for rural local authorities in relation to central government funding.

It was decided that RSN lobbying would focus on a simple ask for the new government to deliver the funding redistribution it has already agreed in 2012 but which largely disappeared due to the effects of 'damping'. This amounts to a sum of £130 million across rural local authorities. This was less than 0.7% of the overall Settlement Funding Assessment.

This was in effect the 'ask' which had been set out in the Manifesto. We would be using DCLG's own mechanisms and figures but the figures had been altered to take account of the subsequent austerity cuts.

The Rural Fair Share Campaign Group of MPs was meeting on the afternoon of the meeting and it was hoped they would agree that approach. Details will be sent out to member authorities of what this would mean to individual authorities if successful. It was recognised that this would be a short term position given the longer term likelihood of local authority funding models shifting away from "Revenue Support Grant" and towards business rate and other adjustments. RSN would investigate this and other potential changes, including any change to New Homes Bonus, in detail over the next 6 months to ensure the best distribution case for rural local authorities was in place. All local authority members were strongly encouraged to press their MPs to join – if they have not done so already -the Rural Fair Share Campaign Group within Parliament. A list would be provided. Members were asked take all opportunities to push the case for a fairer share of funding for rural areas – particularly via local MPs and at this autumn's party conferences.

It was decided where possible to try to present the case at the appropriate Party Conferences this year. It was suggested there was an opportunity at the Conservative Rural Affairs Fringe Meeting on Monday 5 October. Cllr Thornton would explore the position re the Lib Dem Conference.
